

Home | News | Business |

Video Photo Map

00:04 / 00:42 Bedford's GREENHOUSE

Advertisement

Day care center reopens at Belle Center

$270,000 in grants helps day care center reopen

Updated: Tuesday, 26 Jan 2010, 6:05 PM EST
Published: Tuesday, 26 Jan 2010, 6:05 PM EST

Brian Tabor
Posted by: Eli George

BUFFALO, N.Y. (WIVB) - A west side day care center means new opportunity for Buffalo families.

The Belle Center's day care facility reopened thanks to $270,000 in grants from the Oishei Foundation. Many of the parents who use the center will be working or furthering their educations, expanding their chances for economic advance.

Nestor Hernandez of the Belle Center explained, "We're creating no obstacles for a child, barriers for a student to move forward in life, we thought about it, we pictured it, we know what those needs are, now we're implementing those needs to full capacity."

The day care center is inside the Belle Center on Maryland Street and is open weekdays 7 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Copyright WIVB.com