Candelario returns to Belle Center as CEO

Staff
Business First

The Belle Center has a new executive director with the hiring of Lucy Candelario.

Candelario formerly held the same post with West Side Community Services. The UB graduate has more than 30 years of service in the nonprofit sector, including eight years as program director at The Belle Center, located on Buffalo's West Side.

"I'm delighted to be back at The Belle Center. It feels as though I've come full circle and I'm looking forward to working with the dedicated staff and service oriented volunteer board of directors here," she said in a statement. "I'm confident that we can fiscally restructure the agency to achieve and maintain financial sustainability to establish a pattern of smart growth and continue to provide the quality of services desperately needed to help improve our community."

The Belle Center was founded in 1976 and has a staff of over 50 that oversees a variety of community programs from daycare to senior services.
