BUFFALO, N.Y. (WIVB) - Some young volunteers are committed to serving their community for the next 12 months.

Mayor Byron Brown held a swearing in ceremony Monday for 51 new members of Americorps.

"It's great to have children as young as these children are to see you, to watch you, to be able to model your behavior in your community and the work that you're going to be able to do to help turn this community around," said Mayor Brown.

The new members will work on the mayor's impact team and several clean sweeps projects.
