Santa comes to Belle Center

By: YNN Staff

BUFFALO, N.Y. — Santa Claus came to the Belle Center on Tuesday, bringing toys and holiday cheer.

More than 80 children from the Universal pre-kindergarten classes received presents from Santa as part of a day of holiday fun. The kids also decorated cookies and ornaments with their parents as part of the occasion.

Of course, the Center's mission runs deeper than just having fun.

"We're here to improve lives, create opportunities, and foster self-sufficiency for our youth as well as our families and it's important to not only have holiday events like this but also focus on education which is something that we definitely stress here," said Callie Johnson, Belle Center.

The Belle Center also offers programs for after school care, big brothers and sisters, and senior citizens.
